PART 5: BENEATH LUDENSHEIM with a bite for 1d4 damage.)

Area 5
This room contains a rack with several cloaks hanging from it.

Area 6
This chamber once housed a massive shrine to Unklar. The shrine was destroyed long ago, but the current occupants are in the process of rebuilding it. There are several large blocks of marble in the room and some cutting tools. A table is pushed up against the west wall and upon it are some paper and chalk and a small statue of Unklar.

A priest is in here as well. He is a master carver and is in the process of making the first cuts into the marble. He attacks anyone who enters the room who is not a member of the Cabal. If he has warning given by the dog in Area 4, he prepares himself for battle by casting his bless and other combat spells

Using AutoComplete and AutoFill

AutoComplete is particularly helpful in reducing spelling errors and increasing your efficiency. To use AutoComplete, you first enter a word, then move to a new cell within the same column, and then begin to type the word again.

This worksheet already has text, so let's select a cell and use AutoComplete.

▶ Click cell A15, and then type: M

This is a great game! Very short but very good! It is a classic that I will play over and over from time to time. Also very funny!. Great sounds effect, great animations and great... blood! A nice and challenging old school 2d hack&slash.. I really, really wanted to like this game. I loved Wildlife Park 2, but I think I will stick to number two. Everything was so clunky and drab, I just couldn't get into it. Zoo tycoon games are great, and I'd love to see more of them! But this one just doesn't hit the mark. It doesn't feel polished or complete, and feels like a slight downgrade from the last game in a lot of ways.

I did like the value score and aging of different animals, and how you could select better quality animals based on age and health- a cool addition. I did also like some of the other added features, but I just wish I could have fully enjoyed it.. Cute little educational game but a little thin on content, it has challenges to help you get the most out of it but the "questions" are pretty basic.. <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=TnHaUIsFVtM>

The most disapointing game i've played in a long time. nothing works. the character controls as if he's locked on rails and has a response time of almost half a second. Don't waste your time playing this game. I've already done it for you.. I would recomdn't this game if you can get it on sale. It is too short, 50 levels. for full price. I bought it on sale so I am satisfied.. STAY CLEAR!

no mouse support and from what i've seen on the forum they are too lazy too make it work. their excuse is "our game is different". as if. I wouldn't play this even if a was paid to do it

This developer goes on my stay-away-from list

Childhood game you can play for hours still is good even as an adult! 8/10 overall rating. Very short game in general its like a mini-game with a highscore thing built in where you just play more and more just to get an affinity of points.. The best thing ever!!! i caught my first gar at lvl 11 on a crankbait it was a trophy 29.665kg gar:D

. A game that only gets better as time goes on. As a fan of roguelikes and dungeon crawlers I was interested in this game from its creation. I enjoy the customizability of your character, as far as upgrades go, as well as choosing your weapon at the start of a session.

The random element of what runes you get, or what bounties are available, adds onto the difficulty factor, but not in a bad way. I would compare it to the randomness of item rooms and floors in the Binding of Isaac. If you are good enough at the game you can definitely complete the rounds without any runes in the way that an amazing Binding of Isaac player could defeat Isaac with just base stats and base items.

Looking forward to what's next for Blacksea Odyssey!. I never knew my computer could convert to linux in a matter of seconds. 0/10. HIGHLY UNDERRATED. has very good reviews and for a reason. but i feel like this game should be way more popular! awesome feel to the game, massive maps and the game style and setups are unique in its own way. highly recommend this game!. wish i can watch c68 version replay files in steam....
